Focusing on a set of frequently used constructions in French left dislocation right dislocation topicalization and hanging topic the study provides an empirically rich contribution to the understanding of grammar as thoroughly temporal emergent and contingent upon its use in social interaction. Based on data from a range of everyday interactions the authors investigate speakers use of these constructions as resources for organizing social interaction showing how speakers continuously adapt, revise and extend grammatical trajectories in real time in response to local contingencies. The book is designed to be both informative for the specialized scholar and accessible to the graduate student familiar with conversation analysis and/or interactional linguistics.
