Media Policy Convergence Concentration And Commerce:

Media Policy Euromedia Research Group,1998-09-24 The European media landscape is changing profoundly In this wide ranging and timely text members of the Euromedia Research Group examine the ways in which national and supranational policy is reacting to these changes The contributors consider the consequences for broadcasting systems of satellite and cable delivery the fate of public broadcasting under deregulation the changes currently affecting print media and newspapers the impact of media changes for political and social cultural life and the significance of the Internet the first true fruit of the telematic revolution in communication The main themes of media policy analysis today are convergence concentration and commercialization and abundance through digitalization Although media policy has changed drastically in its concerns and forms the authors here argue that the need for an effective public communication policy in our information society is as pressing now as it ever was

Mapping Media Responsibility. Contemporary Aspects of Morals, Ethics and Social Discourse Martin A. M. Gansinger,Ayman Kole,2017-04-10 The purpose of this volume is to broadly discuss the media s responsibility to provide discursive contributions to the ethical and moral challenges of our times At the crossroads of intellectual progress and profit orientation concentration tendencies in the academic publishing industry pose a threat to the reputation and integrity of higher education The actions of whistleblowers like Edward Snowden have radically changed our perception of privacy stirring debates about the ethical and moral dilemma attached to the disclosures Islam and religion continue to rank as urgent topics in the news with the most influential contributions to the public discourse often belonging to ideologically influenced Western voices One century after the Bolshevik revolution in 1917 Russia is still negotiating how to categorize these events which have recently been pointed out in a controversial TV show The example of Nigeria makes clear that insecurity and national development go hand in hand with responsible press coverage while the low self perception of the Belarusian film industry is due partly to its depiction in the country s only cinematographic publication

Marxism and Media Studies Mike Wayne,2003-07-20 This is an accessible guide to key Marxist concepts and how to apply them to contemporary cultural analysis Drawing on Marx Lukacs Gramsci Habermas Jameson and others the book retools and redeems key concepts such as class the mode of production culture industries the state base superstructure ideology hegemony knowledge and social interests and commodity fetishism It also includes analysis of film television the internet and print media Using case studies including Disney Big Brother to the spirits and spectres in such films as The Others The Devil s Backbone and Dark City it illuminates the fetishisms of culture and society under capital Exploring the relevance of each concept to understanding the media Wayne explains why Marxism is an important critical methodology for the media student to engage with He foregrounds the theoretical and political shifts that have led to its marginalisation in recent years and highlights how and why these trends are changing as once more people return to Marx and Marxism to understand the world around them

European Culture and the Media Ib Bondebjerg,Peter Golding,2004-07-01 We are witnessing a dynamic reshaping of the European mediascape This has been underway for more than a decade since the fall of the Berlin wall in 1989 the growing impact of globalisation and the birth of new technologies and new media or the convergence between old and new media A new and more intense mediatisation of society and everyday life is emerging This is happening alongside the rapid reconstruction of the cultural and economic landscape of Europe itself In this transformation the communicative and ideological dimensions the digitalisation of technology and changes in culture the imaginary the discursive universe of politics and communication are all crucial areas for research The cultural industries film television books magazines entertainment and music but also the world of news actuality infotainment and the internet are key areas for the study of what we may begin to understand as a changing European culture in all its complexity and with all its differences and conflicts The media and the cultural industries are among the fastest growing sectors in the global economy Media

Studies: Institutions, theories, and issues Pieter Jacobus Fourie, 2001 This outcomes based textbook provides comprehensive information on the makeup of media institutions theories in media studies and critical issues that face the media today With this guide media students learn the history of the media and learn how to keep up with the latest trends and developments in broadcasting printed press and film Outlined is how to develop an internal media policy with company mission statements news and programming policies The relationship of the media to the economy politics and society and how the media represents race gender violence and terrorism are also discussed Communicatio Socialis Helmuth Rolfes, 2007

No News is Bad News Michael Bromley, Hugh Stephenson, 2014-09-11 This volume of collected essays provides a wide ranging survey of the state of radio and television especially the idea of public service broadcasting and of news current affairs and documentary programming in America Australia the UK and the rest of western Europe Among the key issues it addresses are the dumbing down of TV news the infotainment factor in current affairs shows and the disappearance of the documentary Using contemporary cases and examples from the row over the scheduling of News at Ten in the UK to the creation of ABC News Online in Australia the essays link the performance of radio and television at the turn of the millennium with the processes of deregulation liberalisation and digitalisation which have been evident since the 1980s Working from a much needed and original comparative approach which encompasses complex and well established public broadcasting in the USA as well as emerging and vulnerable participatory radio stations in El Salvador the book sets a variety of experiences of factual radio and television programming within wider political and cultural contexts It offers analyses of not only the problems associated with news current affairs and documentary broadcasting in an era of a declining public service ethos and the apparent triumph of the market however The essays also explore the potential of alternative radio and television new forms of communication such as the internet and changing practices among journalists and programme makers as well as the resilience of public broadcasting and the powers of the public to ensure that the media remain relevant and accountable A companion text to the bestselling Sex Lies and Democracy The Press and the Public this volume presents a multi faceted approach to the tumultuous present and the uncertain future of news current affairs and documentary in radio and television

Global Media Policy in the New Millennium Marc Raboy,2002 This book traces the emergence of Britain s fifth and last terrestrial channel together with the changing broadcast environment in which it has evolved Drawing on interviews with key TV personnel it presents an historical analysis of Channel 5 from conception through to the end of the fifth year of transmission

Theories and Models of Communication Paul Cobley,Peter J. Schulz,2013-01-30 This unique volume offers an overview of the diversity in research on communication including perspectives from biology sociality economics norms and human development It includes general social science and humanities approaches to communication from systems theory to cultural theory as well as perspectives more specifically related to communication acts such as linguistics and cognition The volume also features chapters on the participants and various elements in communication processes on possible effects and on wider consequences of mediation with technical media The scope of the contributions is global and the volume is relevant to both the empirical and the philosophical traditions in human sciences Designed as a stand alone collection to engage undergraduates as well as postgraduates and academics this is also the first book in and an introduction to the De Gruyter Mouton multi volume Handbooks of Communication Science
