Mediaeval Studies 2000:

Mediaeval Studies 2000 Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, Department of Publications, 2000 Saints and Their Legacies in Medieval Iceland Kirsten Wolf, Dario Bullitta, 2021 Icelanders venerated numerous saints both indigenous and from overseas in the Middle Ages. However, although its literary elite was well acquainted with contemporary Continental currents in hagiographic compositions, theological discussions and worship practices, much of the history of the learned European networks through which the Icelandic cult of the saints developed and partially survived the Lutheran Reformation remains obscure. The essays collected in this volume address this lacuna by exploring the legacies of the cult of some of the most prominent saints and holy men in medieval Iceland: the Virgin Mary along with SS Agnes of Rome, Benedict of Nursia, Catherine of Alexandria, Dominic of Caleruega, Michael the Archangel, John of Holland, Olaf the Holy, Olaf the Bold, and Guomundr the Good, using evidence drawn from Old Norse, Icelandic and Latin hagiographic literature, homilies, prayers, diplomas, sacred art, place names and church dedications. By placing the medieval Icelandic cult of the saints within its wider European context, the contributions trace new historical routes of cultural transmission and define the creative processes of the accommodation and adaptation of foreign hagiographic sources and models in medieval and early modern Iceland. They provide a clear picture of an Icelandic hagiographic literature and culture that celebrates the splendour of the saints; they also show how an engaging literary genre which became immensely popular on the island throughout the Middle Ages and beyond was created. Medieval Studies 2000 - Catalogue Continuum Publishing Staff, The Complete Harley 2253 Manuscript, Volume 2, 2014-09-01. British Library MS Harley 2253 is one of the most important literary works to survive from the English medieval era. In rarity, quality and abundance, its secular love lyrics comprise an unrivaled collection. Intermingled with them are contemporary political songs as well as delicate lyrics designed to inspire religious devotion.

Christian Identity amid Islam in Medieval Spain Charles L. Tieszen, 2013-05-30. In Christian Identity amid Islam in Medieval Spain, Charles L. Tieszen explores a small corpus of texts from medieval Spain in an effort to deduce how their authors defined their religious identity in light of Islam and in turn how they hoped their readers would distinguish themselves from the Muslims in their midst. It is argued that the use of reflected self image as a tool for interpreting Christian anti-Muslim polemic allows such texts to be read for the self image of their authors instead of the image of just those they attacked. As such, polemic becomes a set of borders authors offered to their communities helping them to successfully navigate inter-religious living. The Journal of Medieval and Early Modern Studies, 2002 Medieval Textual Cultures Faith Wallis, Robert Wisnovsky, 2016-08-22. Understanding how medieval textual cultures engaged with the heritage of antiquity transmission and translation depends on recognizing that reception is a creative cultural act. Transformation. These essays focus on the people, societies and institutions who were doing the transmitting, translating and transforming the agents. The subject matter ranges from medicine to astronomy, literature to magic, while the cultural context encompasses Islamic and Jewish societies as well as Byzantium and the Latin West. What unites these studies is their attention to the methodological and conceptual challenges of thinking about agency. Not every agent acted with an agenda and agenda were sometimes driven by immediate needs or religious considerations that while compelling to the actors are more opaque to us. What does it mean to say that a text becomes available for transmission or translation? And why do some texts once transmitted fail to thrive in their new milieu? This collection thus points toward a more sophisticated ecology of transmission where not only individuals and teams of individuals but also social spaces and local cultures act as the agents of cultural creativity.

A Century of British Medieval Studies Alan Deyermond, 2007-11-29 This is an authoritative guide to the complete range of medieval scholarship undertaken in twentieth century Britain history, archaeology, language, culture. Some of the twenty nine essays focus on changes in research method or on the achievements of individual scholars, others are the personal account of a lifetime's work in a discipline. Many outline the ways in which subjects may develop in the twenty first century.

Representing Difference in the Medieval and Modern Orientalist Romance Amy Burge, 2017-02-14 This book, the first full length cross period comparison of medieval and modern literature, offers cutting edge research into the textual and cultural legacy of the Middle Ages, a significant and growing area of scholarship. At the juncture of literary, cultural and gender studies and capitalizing on a renewed interest in popular western representations of the Islamic east, this book proffers innovative case studies on representations of cross religious and cross cultural romantic relationships in a selection of late medieval and twenty first century Orientalist popular romances. Comparing the tropes, characterization and settings of these literary phenomena and focusing on gender, religion and ethnicity, the study exposes the historical roots of current romance representations of the east, advancing research in Orientalism, neo medievalism and medieval cultural studies. Fundamentally, Representing Difference invites a closer look at medieval and modern popular attitudes towards the east as represented in romance and the kinds of solutions proposed for its apparent problems.

Ireland Tomás Ó Carragáin, 2010 This is the first book devoted to churches in Ireland dating from the arrival of Christianity in the fifth century to the early stages of the Romanesque around 1100 including those built to house treasures of the golden age of Irish art such as the Book of Kells and the Ardagh chalice Carrag in s comprehensive survey of the surviving examples forms the basis for a far reaching analysis of why these buildings looked as they did and what they meant in the context of early Irish society Carrag in also identifies a clear political and ideological context for the first Romanesque churches in Ireland and shows that to a considerable extent the Irish Romanesque represents the perpetuation of a long established architectural tradition     35th International Congress on Medieval Studies, 4-7 May 2000 ,2000     Progress of Mediaeval and Renaissance Studies in the United States and Canada ,1924 Each number contains a List of medievalists and their publications and a List of doctoral dissertations Nos 6 10 include also the report of the academy     International Congress on Medieval Studies ,2001     Studies in Philology ,1923     Ten Medieval Studies, with Four Appendices George Gordon Coulton,1930     Progress of Medieval Studies in the United States of America ,1929 No 6 10 include the report of the Mediaeval Academy of America     Scandinavica Elias Bredsdorff,2001
