Care and Agency Jeanine Anderson,Jessaca B. Leinaweaiver,2024-10-11 Andean communities occupy a special place in the history of anthropology having given shape to fundamental theories of kinship peasant economics Indigenous medical systems ritual life and others Yet children have been shortchanged in research and theory building Care and Agency based on detailed ethnographies of six towns in the province of Yauyos restores children to a central research position Contemporary children's studies emphasize children's agency and autonomy and these take surprising forms under the conditions of the rural Andes. At the same time the book incorporates and extends current discussions of caregiving and its organization in human societies. Children in the Andes are involved in the care of each other of adults of animals of the environment. The activities sociality and subjective states of children of different ages genders and social strata are variable in ways that make it impossible to speak of a single Andean childhood. The future they face is also uncertain as the Peruvian nation stumbles through cycles of incompetent government whose common thread is the neglect of small scale family farming and the welfare of rural populations. This book is a fascinating look at Andean childhood for anyone interested in the lives of children. Anthropos, 2004 The Politics of Disease Alexander R. Bay, 2006 Anthropological Notebooks

, 2009 Medical Anthropology in Ecological Perspective Ann McElroy, Patricia K Townsend, 2009 Integrating biocultural environmental and evolutionary approaches to the study of human health this premier teaching text for medical anthropology has been updated to reflect the latest developments in the field. Ayamara Women Healers Mary Elizabeth Bathum, 2007 Selected Readings in the Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. Glazier, Charles A. Flowerday, 2003-12-30 Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion. Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e.g. bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency. In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars. Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective. Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion. In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting. Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways. In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others. A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level. The Healing Power of Spirituality [3 volumes] J. Harold Ellens, 2009-12-30 This three volume set addresses how the role of spirituality and its constructive expressions in various religions and outside of formal religion enhances human personality and experience.
