The Bayeux Tapestry John F. Szabo, Nicholas E. Kuefler, 2015-06-18 Commanding its own museum and over 200 years of examination observation and scholarship the monumental embroidery known popularly as the Bayeux Tapestry and documenting William the Conqueror's invasion of England in October 1066 is perhaps the most important surviving artifact of the Middle Ages. This magnificent textile both celebrated and panned is both enigmatic artwork and confounding historical record. With over 1780 entries Szabo and Kuefler offer the largest and most heavily annotated bibliography on the Tapestry ever written. Notably the Bayeux Tapestry has produced some of the most compelling questions of the medieval period. Who commissioned it and for what purpose? What was the intended venue for its display? Who was the designer and who executed the enormous task of its manufacture? How does it inform our understanding of eleventh century life? And who was the mysterious Aelfgyva depicted in the Tapestry's main register? This book is an effort to capture and describe the scholarship that attempts to answer these questions. But the bibliography also reflects the popularity of the Tapestry in literature covering a surprisingly broad array of subjects. The inclusion of this material will assist future scholars who may study references to the work in contemporary non-fiction and popular works as well as use of the Bayeux Tapestry as a primary and secondary source in the classroom. The monographs, articles, and other works cited in this bibliography reflect dozens of research areas. Major themes are the Tapestry as a source of information for eleventh century material culture, its role in telling the story of the Battle of Hastings and events leading up to the invasion, patronage of the Tapestry, biographical detail on known historical figures in the Tapestry, arms and armor, medieval warfare, strategy and techniques, opus anglicanum, the Anglo-Saxon needlework tradition, preservation and display of the artifact, the Tapestry's place in medieval art, the embroidery's depiction of medieval and Romanesque architecture, and the life of the Bayeux Tapestry itself.

Medieval Fortifications John R. Kenyon, 1990 The author considers the period from the introduction of the castle by the Normans to the accession of the Tudors and adopts a broadly thematic approach. The book provides a synthesis of what has been learnt about the development, form and function of British castles through excavations since 1945.

Appearing and Empty Dalai Lama, Thubten Chodron, 2023-08-29 In this final volume on emptiness the Dalai Lama skillfully reveals the Prasangikas view of the ultimate nature of reality so that we will gain the correct view of emptiness, the selflessness of both persons and phenomena, and have the means to eliminate our own and others' duhkha. In this last of three volumes on emptiness the Dalai Lama takes us through the Sautrantika, Yogacara and Svatantrika views on the ultimate nature of reality and the Prasangikas' thorough responses to these so that we gain the correct view of emptiness, the selflessness of both persons and phenomena. This view entails negating inherent existence while also being able to establish conventional existence. Emptiness does not mean nothingness. We then learn how to meditate on the correct view by cultivating pristine wisdom that is the union of serenity and insight as taught in the Pali, Chinese and Tibetan traditions. Such meditation when combined with the altruistic intention of bodhicitta leads to the complete eradication of all defilements that obscure our minds This volume also introduces us to the tathagatagarbha the buddha essence and how it is understood in both Tibet and China Is it permanent Does everyone have it In addition the discussion of sudden and gradual awakening in Zen Chan Buddhism and in Tibetan Buddhism is fascinating     The Medieval Park Robert Liddiard,2007 The park a feature of the landscape we always associate with the hunting of deer played an important role in the psyche of Britain s medieval aristocracy This well illustrated book offers a reappraisal of the park by a new generation of landscape researchers who use a diversity of approaches to assess its economy ecology and social role They show how parks actually had many functions other than deer management and hunting they were integrated into the wider rural economy and also provided a means by which seigniorial control of the landscape might be demonstrated They varied considerably across Britain and are of considerable conservation significance today

From Classical to Byzantine P. Nick Kardulias,2005 This book attempts to bring an anthropological perspective to the historical archaeology of a complex period in the Greek past Traditionally discussion of the transition from Late Antiquity to the Early Byzantine period in the Aegean region has focused on the fate of Classical urban culture Scholarly opinion is divided as to whether the Classical polis and its constituent institutions emerged intact from the disruptive events of the third to sixth centuries A D Over the past two decades a consensus has emerged that argues that the break between Classical and Byzantine occurred in the seventh not the fourth or fifth centuries A D and that it was a more gradual process than previously believed The present study examines the Byzantine Fortress at Isthmia in the Peloponnese with an eye to understanding social change in this critical period at the level of the site and then the region in terms of an evolutionary perspective This study focuses on three problems at different levels of abstraction 1 A descriptive problem gathering more information about the Medieval occupation at Isthmia delineating the structural features of the Byzantine Fortress with the ultimate intent of comprehending site functions through time 2 A methodological problem the use of geophysical techniques to examine the subsurface of the Fortress and other selected spots to obtain the data necessary for proper description 3 A broader historical problem how best to reconstruct the key events pertaining to the transition from Late Antiquity to Early Byzantine The methodological element becomes the link between the gathering of site specific data and the wider historical implications for that information

Wigmore Castle, North Herefordshire Stephanie Ratkai,2017-12-02 Excavations at Wigmore Castle were carried out in 1996 and 1998 as a precursor to repair and consolidation of the castle by English Heritage The castle had remained the honorial caput of the Mortimer family from the late 11th century through to 1425 an unusually long tenure amongst Marcher lordships The Mortimer family became increasingly important players in the history of England Thereafter the Mortimer inheritance passed to the Dukes of York and from there to the Crown Evidence of the earliest castle was found during the excavations including part of a substantial 12th century timber building part of which had been used as a kitchen Here remains of a sequence of hearths cooking pots and food remains were found The construction of defences in stone probably began in the 12th century The effect of conflict on the castle was indicated by the presence of ballista balls arrowheads a possible crannequin and fragments of plate armour A possible period of neglect occurred in the later 14th century but by the 15th century the castle was the scene of renewed activity including the rebuilding of the curtain wall Dietary evidence and some of the artefacts indicate that there was high status occupation in which hunting played an important role that continued throughout the 15th century By the 16th century the castle fabric was beginning to fall into disrepair and evidence of repairs and modifications were noted Nevertheless high status occupation continued and the castle remained to play an important role as a secondary seat of the Council of the Marches However by the early 17th century decline at the castle appears to have been terminal The castle was now owned by the Harley family and it is they who are credited with the pre emptive slighting of the castle during the Civil War The slighting is not evident in the excavated areas and the area in and around the East Tower appears to have been derelict well before the mid 17th century Pottery clay pipe and other artefacts which can definitely be ascribed to the Civil War are few An oxshoe found in the latest deposits may well be associated with the removal of fallen stone for building elsewhere Thereafter the castle appears to have been little visited and almost total ruination had set in by the early 18th century In 1995 the castle was taken into English Heritage Guardianship and has been consolidated and restored as a romantic ruin     Collected Essays in Architectural Criticism Alan Colquhoun,2009 Collected Essays in Architectural Criticism is an indispensable anthology of writing by one of the most important voices in architectural theory of the last 50 years Born in 1921 Colquhoun graduated from the Architectural Association in 1949 Currently Professor Emeritus of Architecture at Princeton University he has taught at the AA Cornell University and University College Dublin among many other schools of architecture He is the author of several books including the seminal Essays in Architectural Criticism 1981 Modernity and the Classical Tradition 1991 both republished here in their entirety and The Oxford History of Modern Architecture 2002 This book includes essays from throughout Colquhoun's distinguished career In his early writing Colquhoun subjects modern architecture to a far more thorough reading than was then customary His meticulous evaluation of Modernism raised the standard of architectural historiography and has influenced new directions in theory and practice ever since Collected Essays in Architectural Criticism encompasses the clarity of style and rigorous erudite analysis that Colquhoun has brought to bear on a diverse range of subjects including Le Corbusier Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown the Pompidou Centre Postmodernism and the design of museums Piranesi, Rome Recorded Arthur Ross Foundation, 1989
