Emergency Planning and Preparedness for Re-entry of a Nuclear Powered Satellite International Atomic Energy Agency, Leslie Ross, 1996 Although the probability of nuclear powered satellite re entries is small the present guidebook was prepared to assist States in planning for possible re entry events and to provide international consensus guidance for responding to such a situation In particular this document provides guidance for specific actions to be taken from the time of the announcement of an impending re entry event through the locating monitoring and recovery phases

Artists of the Middle Ages Leslie D. Ross, 2003-06-30 In the first volume of the Artists of an Era series Leslie Ross examines the identities of artists attributed to the most famous and influential works of medieval art These works are much discussed within the realm of art history yet the identities of medieval artists fall victim to incomplete historical records and often remain enigmatic In ten narrative chapters Ross examines this significant area of the art world including architecture iconography metalwork scribework sculpture even medieval art instruction and summarizes the lives and work of that genre s leading artist or artists Students will learn not only what is factually known of an artist s life as well as what is purely speculative but also the processes used to gather the information and fuel speculation Readers will also gain unique insights into the practices and traditions of medieval art and the role it played within medieval society A timeline chapter bibliographies a list of further resources on medieval art and an index offer additional tools to students of medieval art and art history

Medieval Art ,1979     Pathos in Late-Medieval Religious Drama and Art Gabriella Mazzon, 2018-05-23 Pathos as Communicative Strategy in Late Medieval Religious Drama and Art explores the strategies employed to trigger emotional responses in late medieval dramatic texts from several Western European traditions and juxtaposes these texts with artistic productions from the same areas with an emphasis on Britain The aim is to unravel the mechanisms through which pathos was produced and employed mainly through the representation of pain and suffering with mainly religious but also political aims The novelty of the book resides in its specific linguistic perspective which highlights the recurrent use of words structures and dialogic patterns in drama to reinforce messages on the salvific value of suffering in synergy with visual messages produced in the same cultural milieu

Liturgical Song and Practice in Dante's Commedia Helena Phillips-Robins, 2021-04-15 This study explores ways in which Dante presents liturgy as enabling humans to encounter God In Liturgical Song and Practice in Dante s Commedia Helena Phillips Robins explores for the first time the ways in which the relationship between humanity and divinity is shaped through the performance of liturgy in the Commedia The study draws on largely untapped thirteenth century sources to reconstruct how the songs and prayers performed in the Commedia were experienced and used in late medieval Tuscany Phillips Robins shows how in the Commedia Dante refashions religious practices that shaped daily life in the Middle Ages and how Dante presents such practices as transforming and sustaining relationships between humans and the divine The study focuses on the types of engagement that Dante s depictions of liturgical performance invite from the reader Based on historically attentive analysis of liturgical practice and on analysis of the experiential and communal nature of liturgy Phillips Robins argues that Dante invites readers themselves to perform the poem s liturgical songs and by doing so to enter into relationship with the divine Dante calls not only for readers interpretative response to the Commedia but also for their performative and spiritual activity Focusing on Purgatorio and Paradiso Phillips Robins investigates the particular ways in which relationships both between humans and between humans and God can unfold through liturgy Her book includes explorations of liturgy as a means of enacting communal relationships that stretch across time and space the Christological implications of participating in liturgy the interplay of the personal and the shared enabled by the language of liturgy and liturgy as a living out of the theological virtues of faith hope and love The book will interest students and scholars of Dante studies medieval Italian literature and medieval theology The Book

Current Contents. Arts & Humanities Institute for Scientific Information,1998 Reading a Dynamic Canvas Cynthia S. Colburn,Maura K. Heyn,2008 Personal adornment as an extension of the body is a crucial component in social interaction The active process of adorning the body can shape embodied identities such as social status ethnicity gender and age As a result of its dynamic and performative nature the body can often convey meaning more powerfully and convincingly than verbal communication Yet adornment is not easily read and does not necessarily reflect actual lived experience Rather bodily adornment and the performances that accompany it can be manipulated to conceal or exaggerate reality thus speaking more to identity discourse The interpretation of such discourse must be grounded in an understanding of the context specific and negotiable nature of adornment The essays in this volume which are united by their focus on material and visual evidence cover a broad chronological and geographical span from the ancient Near East to Roman Britain and bring together innovative scholarly work on adornment by an international group of art historians and archaeologists This attention to the archaeological evidence makes the volume a valuable resource as those working with material or visual culture face unique methodological and theoretical challenges to the study of adornment

The Postmodern Fantastic in Contemporary British Fiction Martin Horstkotte,2004 This study looks at the complex relationship between postmodernism and the fantastic in contemporary British fiction and shows that a new type of the fantastic arises in postmodernism Arguing against interpretations that view postmodernism as inherently fantastic it seeks to define the postmodern fantastic as a narrative mode that is influenced by certain traits both of the traditional fantastic and of literary postmodernism but does not simply conflate both In the first theoretical part a number of theories of the fantastic and of postmodernism are used to set the fantastic apart from other non mimetic forms of literature and to create a model of the postmodern fantastic that postulates the totalisation of the fantastic in postmodernism. In the second part of this study this model is applied to a number of contemporary British texts which are particularly susceptible to this form of the fantastic due to several characteristics such as their muted kind of postmodernism and their frequent construction of parallel worlds. The analysis of these texts focuses on four thematic fields of the postmodern fantastic: the figure of the other as defined by Bernhard Waldenfels; time and history; text and textuality; and the development of the Todorovian pure fantastic. Finally the question of the death of the fantastic in postmodernism is examined. Fine Arts Donald L. Ehresmann, 1990
