Medieval Ireland An Archaeology:

Medieval Ireland Tadhg O'Keeffe,2000 Tadhg O'Keeffe's lively and wide ranging study addresses the need for a fresh archaeological study of medieval Ireland. Individual chapters re-examine such familiar themes as urban and rural settlement, military, domestic and ecclesiastical architecture, agriculture and craft and trade and industry. Other topics discussed include diet, dress, burial rites and entertainment. The cultural relations between the Gaelic Irish and English populations of medieval Ireland are explored throughout the book as are Ireland's relations with her European neighbors. With its elegantly written text and numerous illustrations this portrait of medieval Ireland will appeal to general readers as well as to students and professionals in the fields of archaeology, history and historical geography.

The Archaeology of Early Medieval Ireland Nancy Edwards, 2013-04-15 In the first major work on the subject for over 30 years Nancy Edwards provides a critical survey of the archaeological evidence in Ireland c. 400-1200, introducing material from many recently discovered sites as well as reassessing the importance of earlier excavations. Beginning with an assessment of Roman influence Dr Edwards then discusses the themes of settlement, food and farming, craft and technology, the church and art, concluding with an appraisal of the Viking impact. The archaeological evidence for the period is also particularly rich and wide ranging and our knowledge is expanding rapidly in the light of modern techniques of survey and excavation.

The Archaeology of Medieval Rural Settlement in Ireland Kieran Denis O'Conor, 1998 A wide range of archaeological and historical source material forms the basis of this well-presented study which considers topics such as the role of castles as country houses and manorial centres, the nature of English peasant settlement on Anglo-Norman manors and the nature of Gaelic settlement in other areas. It also sets out directions for future research.

The Town in Medieval

Ireland Christiaan Corlett, Michael Potterton, 2021-03-23 This book contains essays by professional archaeologists historians geographers and illustrators shine a light on the medieval archaeological heritage of more than twenty of Ireland's historic urban spaces    Animals and Sacred Bodies in Early Medieval Ireland John Soderberg, 2022-01-04 Clonmacnoise was among the busiest, most economically complex and intensely sacred places in early medieval Ireland. In Animals and Sacred Bodies in Early Medieval Ireland Religion and Urbanism at Clonmacnoise John Soderberg argues that animals are the key to understanding Clonmacnoise's development as a thriving settlement and a sacred space. At this sanctuary city on the River Shannon animal bodies were an essential source of food and raw materials. They were also depicted extensively on religious objects. Drawing from new theories about the intersections between religion and economics John Soderberg explores how transformations emerging from animal encounters made Clonmacnoise a sacred settlement and created the sacred bodies of early medieval Ireland    Settlement and Society in Medieval Ireland Francis X.
