many of today's European nations were formed the Catholic Church rose to great prominence some of history's most famous wars occurred and a social class system was instituted that lasted over 1 000 years A lot of activity took place during a period frequently labeled derogatively as the Dark Ages and while that period of time is mostly referred to as the Middle Ages instead of the Dark Ages today it has still retained the stigma of being a sort of lost period of time in which Western civilization made no worthwhile progress after the advances of the ancient civilizations of Greece and Rome In reality this oversimplification of the Middle Ages overlooks the progress made in the studies of sciences and philosophy especially during the High Middle Ages It also ignores the fact that one of the most important inventions of the last millennium was created in Germany during the Late Middle Ages the printing press which allowed the Renaissance to move across the continent and help position Western Europe as the wealthiest region in the world If anything the one aspect of the Middle Ages that has been romanticized is medieval warfare Indeed the Middle Ages have long sparked people's imaginations thanks to imagery of armored knights battling on horseback and armies of men trying to breach the walls of formidable castles What is generally forgotten is that medieval warfare was constantly adapting to the times as leaders adopted new techniques and technology and common infantry became increasingly important throughout the period Starting around 1000 CE there was a gradual consolidation of power in the region after the fragmentation of the Early Middle Ages and it brought about the rise of more centralized states that could field large armies The Normans one of the first groups to do this were notable for their discipline and organization and it's little surprise that they were the last foreigners to successfully invade Britain under William the Conqueror in the mid 11th century The Middle Ages have always gripped people's imaginations and knights fair ladies castles jousting and feasts make for a pleasant picture but the reality was quite different People were dirty disease was rife war was cruel and life was short People died in bizarre ways frequently insisted they saw visions in the sky and invented marvelous devices seemingly way before their time British writer L P Hartley famously wrote The past is a foreign country they do things differently there Europe in the Middle Ages was more like a different planet The Weird Middle Ages A Collection of Mysterious Stories Odd Customs and Strange Superstitions from Medieval Times includes all kinds of tales about people and events during the era Along with pictures of important people places and events you will learn about some of the Middle Ages strangest stories like never before
