Media Matrix Barbara Creed, 2003 From Sex and the City to discussions of sexuality and the self Breillat's film Romance to Harlequin romances crisis TV to cyberporn celebrity to censorship Barbara Creed explores the effect of today's global media on contemporary ideas and experiences of sex screen identity and representation From the author of The Monstrous Feminine

Research and Advanced Technology for Digital Libraries Rachel Heery, Liz Lyon, 2005-01-11 We are delighted to present the ECDL 2004 Conference proceedings from the 8th European Conference on Research and Advanced Technology for Digital Libraries at the University of Bath Bath UK This followed an impressive and geographically dispersed series of locations for previous events Pisa 1997 Heraklion 1998 Paris 1999 Lisbon 2000 Darmstadt 2001 Rome 2002 and Trondheim 2003 The conference reflected the rapidly evolving landscape of digital libraries both in technology developments and in the focus of approaches to implementation An emphasis on the requirements of the individual user and of diverse and distributed user communities was apparent In addition the conference programme began to address possibly for the first time the associated themes of e-research e-science and e-learning and their relationship to digital libraries We observed increasing commonality in both the distributed information architectures and the technical standards that underpin global infrastructure developments Digital libraries are integral to this information landscape and to the creation of increasingly powerful tools and applications for resource discovery and knowledge extraction Digital libraries support and facilitate the data and information flows within the scholarly knowledge cycle and provide essential enabling functionality for both learners and researchers The varied and innovative research activities presented at ECDL 2004 demonstrate the exciting potential of this very fast moving field The 148 papers 43 posters 5 panels 14 tutorials and 4 workshops submitted this year were once again of the highest quality

The Media Matrix Frank D. Miele, 2019-03-07 The essays by journalist Frank Miele in this collection span from 2005 to 2018 The Media Matrix is Volume 4 of the Heartland Diary USA series Most of these essays originally appeared in the Daily Inter Lake in Kalispell Montana where Miele worked for 34 years including 18 years as managing editor Miele gained a wide following for his weekly conservative Editor's 2 Cents commentaries which are now collected in the Heartland Diary series The author who is now a columnist for Real Clear Politics relies on his work as a community journalist to filter the Fake News promoted by the Mainstream Media to get to the real story You can read about biased reporting on a variety of topics such as natural born citizenship the war on terrorism border security and Russian collusion Miele finds common ground with Donald Trump and declares himself to be a sworn enemy of Fake News The foreword was written by Brant Horn who was circulation director at the Daily Inter Lake for most of the years when Miele was at the helm He describes the challenges Miele met in his capacity as managing editor and lauds him for not giving up on his responsibility to present a fair and balanced news report even while writing conservative commentary under his own name for many years The afterword by economist Richard L Spencer is the introduction to the entire Heartland Diary USA series Spencer commends Miele as America s diarist and believes that Miele s columns represent a vital resource for future historians

The Media Matrix Scott Eastham,1990 From questions of propaganda and media ethics to the controverted arena of cross cultural communications students and scholars invariably find themselves already surrounded by the media of communication they are attempting to understand Here is an approach which takes its stand on the inside of such symbolic environments and finds a creative alternative to the conditions and conditioning they tend to impose This study provides a thorough grounding for the art of media interpretation and demonstrates the fruitfulness of an interdisciplinary approach to issues arising from the interaction of media and culture technology and human values The book also underscores the pertinence of such thinkers as Lewis Mumford H Marshall McLuhan Barrington Nevitt Ezra Pound Martin Heidegger R Buckminster Fuller Raimundo Panikkar Norman O Brown and Gregory Bateson to media theory
