Medieval Yardley Victor Henry Thomas Skipp,1970 The Smalbroke Family of Birmingham 1550-1749 Marie Fogg,2009-11-28 A history of the Smalbroke family who lived at Blakesley Hall Yardley Birmingham Their lives as yeoman farmers mercers iron mongers and landowners Following their on going feud with the Colmore family which resulted in a trial at the Supreme Court of Star Chamber London Worcestershire Anglo-Saxon Charter Bounds Della Hooke,1990 The county of Worcestershire finally formed before the Conquest around the burh of Worcester is exceptionally rich in charter material The charters contain an unusual amount of valuable topographical detail in descriptions of location in comments on the appurtenances of an estate and especially within the boundary clauses which accompany many of the grants or leases From this very full body of texts Dr Hooke has been able to identify features which have enabled her to reconstruct the landscape of Anglo Saxon Worcestershire to a remarkable degree Della Hooke is widely known for her pioneer work on Anglo Saxon charters through which she has been able to reconstruct the Worcestershire landscape as it was almost a thousand years ago The county part of the Anglo Saxon kingdom of the Hwicce responds particularly well to her techniques It is exceptionally rich in Anglo Saxon charters and the physical features of the county which has remained largely agricultural are relatively easy to identify Careful study of the charter evidence throws light on the history of settlement and land use and shows that many features of the medieval county for instance the rich arable lands of the Vale of Evesham and the wooded landscapes of Malvern and Wyre were already present in Anglo Saxon Worcestershire The book presents all the topographical detail in the charters together with all the estate boundaries each charter is individually mapped and the charter's landmarks located The result is the first such study for any county providing valuable and readily available data for historians and students of land use DELLA HOOKE is Research Fellow in the School of Geography University of Birmingham She is a council member of the Council for Name Studies in Great Britain and Ireland and of the English Place Name Society and editor of Landscape History the journal of the Society for Landscape Studies Her published work relates to her long standing interest in the use of Anglo Saxon charters to trace the evolution of regional landscape RIGHT ALIGN published price 45

Peasants Making History Christopher Dyer,2022-06-02 Peasants have been despised underrated or disregarded in the past Historians and archaeologists are now giving them a more positive assessment and in Peasants Making History Christopher Dyer sets a new agenda for this kind of study Using as his example the peasants of the west midlands of England Dyer examines peasant society in relation to their social superiors their lords their neighbours and their households and finds them making decisions and taking options to improve their lives In their management of farming both cultivation of fields and keeping of livestock they made a series of modifications and some dramatic changes not just reacting to shifts in circumstances but also devising creative initiatives Peasants played an active role in the development of towns both by migrating into urban settings but also by trading actively in urban markets Industry in the countryside was not imposed on the rural population but often the result of peasant enterprise and flexibility If we examine peasant attitudes and mentalities we find them engaging in political life making a major contribution to religion recognizing the need to conserve the environment and balancing the interests of individuals with those of the communities in which they lived Many features of our world have medieval roots and peasants played an important part in the development of the rural landscape participation of ordinary people in government parish church buildings towns and social welfare The evidence to support this peasant centred view has to be recovered by imaginative interpretation and by using every type of source including the testimony of archaeology and landscape    The Bull Ring Uncovered Catharine Patrick,Stephanie Ratkai,2008-12-12 The excavations in the centre of Birmingham uncovered evidence of habitation from prehistoric and Roman times but the 12th to 19th centuries presented by far the most evidence from artefacts environmental samples and structural remains The medieval industrial past was of particular interest with tanning and the manufacture of hemp and linen all playing a large role in the city s prosperity Metal working reached its peak in the seventeenth century with brass founding becoming important from the eighteenth century onwards Most of the artefactual evidence attests to Birmingham s industrial past indeed the evidence for domestic life is comparatively scant with an anomalous burial of two people at Park Street presenting something of a mystery This volume presents insights into the early industrial past of this important city and is an invaluable record covering eight hundred years of occupation    Crisis and Development Victor Skipp,1978-06-15 Victor Skipp constructs a detailed model of demographic economic and social change for a sample group of English communities After examining the effect of the ecological adjustments on social structure domestic and cultural life Mr Skipp then turns to the wider implications of his model    The West Midlands in the Early Middle Ages Margaret Gelling,1992    Performing Piety A. Yardley,2016-09-23 Addressing questions about the musical life in English nunneries in the later Middle Ages Yardley pieces together a mosaic of nunnery musical life where even the smallest convents sang the monastic offices on a daily basis and many of the larger houses celebrated the late medieval liturgy in all of its complexity    Medieval Feminist Forum ,2007
